

Knocking on solar panels

Overview

Did a salesperson knock on your door and promise free rooftop solar panels at no cost to you?

Or say you'll never have to pay another electricity bill because government programs, grants, or rebates cover your solar installation?

It's likely a scam. Here's why you should greet door knockers with a healthy dose of skepticism and how to handle them when they turn up at your front door. Many are contracted sales reps using high-pressure tactics and misleading claims. Some door knockers might show up claiming to be from your utility . Discussion of solar photovoltaic systems, modules, the solar energy business, solar power production, utility-scale, commercial rooftop, residential, off-grid systems and more. Solar photovoltaic technology is one of the great developments of the modern age. Improvements to design and cost . There are several reasons to be suspicious of anyone who tries to sell you solar while standing on your doorstep. Being informed can protect you from predatory tactics. Buying solar can save you money and reduce your environmental footprint, but only if you know what to look for - and what to look out for. These salespeople aim to convince you to switch to solar power, but not all of them are genuine.

Knocking on solar panels

Talking to a door-to-door solar sales rep? Beware of these red

Door-knocking is common in the solar industry, and not well regulated. Being informed can protect you from predatory tactics. Buying solar can save you money and reduce your

How to Handle Solar Panel Door Knockers

Of course, the easiest way to avoid door-knocking solar panel scams is to not answer the door in the first place - a totally understandable tact to take if they show up while you're enjoying

Solar energy is rising in popularity. So are the scams

Did a salesperson knock on your door and promise free rooftop solar panels at no cost to you? Or say you'll never have to pay another electricity bill because government programs, grants, or

Don't get burned by someone trying to sell solar panels door-to-door

The scam starts when someone pretending to be a salesperson or a government employee contacts you through email, social media or at your door and offers to install residential

I got door-knocked by a solar salesman- Is it a scam?

Door-knocking salesmen are often outsourced or contracted, working on commission, and unsurprisingly, they are just salesmen. They are not experts in solar, or in 3D modeling & shade

Is there proper etiquette for when solar salesmen knock on the

Is there proper etiquette for when solar salesmen knock on the door? I feel rude not answering the door. I usually just tell them I'd like solar but I'm still working on saving up the money to buy cash and just

Beware of Solar Door knockers , A&R Solar

Reality: While there are real solar incentives in Washington and Oregon, they aren't handed out by random people showing up at your door. If someone claims they're from the

The Truth Behind A Solar Door-to-Door Sales Pitch

Have you had someone knock on your door claiming you are eligible for free solar? They may say they work for the utility company and are working in the neighborhood offering "a program".

Solar Panel Door Knocking: What's Behind the Influx of Solar

Concerned about solar door knockers at your doorstep? Discover how to confidently navigate through solar solicitations and make informed decisions.

How to Protect Yourself from Solar Door Knockers

Recently, we've been seeing more and more solar sales people knocking on doors in our area. There are several reasons to be suspicious of anyone who tries to sell you solar while standing

Contact Us

For catalog requests, pricing, or partnerships, please visit:
<https://www.bartstudio.biz>