

Rural photovoltaic panel installation roof fraud

Overview

Did a salesperson knock on your door and promise free rooftop solar panels at no cost to you?

Or say you'll never have to pay another electricity bill because government programs, grants, or rebates cover your solar installation?

It's likely a scam. But an emerging problem in the U.S. solar business that installs panels on homes risks slowing the effort to cut the country's emissions. Customer complaints against the country's residential rooftop solar industry have increased dramatically in recent years. While there are some government-funded solar . Be wary of solar companies holding themselves out as being a government-affiliated entity. As more families consider solar energy improvements, dishonest companies exploit the fine print in solar panel . This boom follows the implementation of a federal tax credit that can be worth 30% of a homeowner's solar installation costs. "Well, everybody wants a cheaper electric bill, right?

" said Emanuel Minto, a 91-year-old, who was locked into a misleading .
